Product Description

H2 bubble hydrogen water bath generator

This hydrogen water bath generator machine infuses highly - pure molecular hydrogen into the water, enabling you to indulge in a molecular hydrogen bath right at home. It can generate water with 99.996% high - purity hydrogen gas and deliver nano - bubble hydrogen to your skin. The hydrogen concentration can exceed 2500ppb. When you take a bath in water with such a high hydrogen concentration, the free - radical - neutralizing hydrogen permeates into your skin cells. Furthermore, research indicates that it can assist in treating various medical conditions.

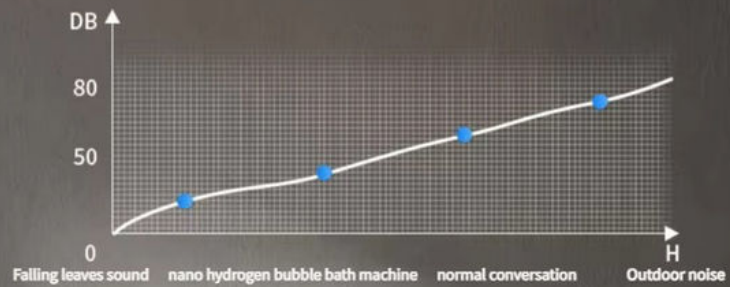

This hydrogen water bath generator infuses hydrogen rich water of the rate of 6000ml per minutes , which act as the multi-functional device providing hydrogen spa for shower and bath, but also an advanced hydrogen detox foot spa and a hydrogen face wash device.

LOW FREQUENCY NOISE REDUCTION DESIGN

Low frequency noise reduction design

Comfortable Experience | Enjoy a Quiet Life

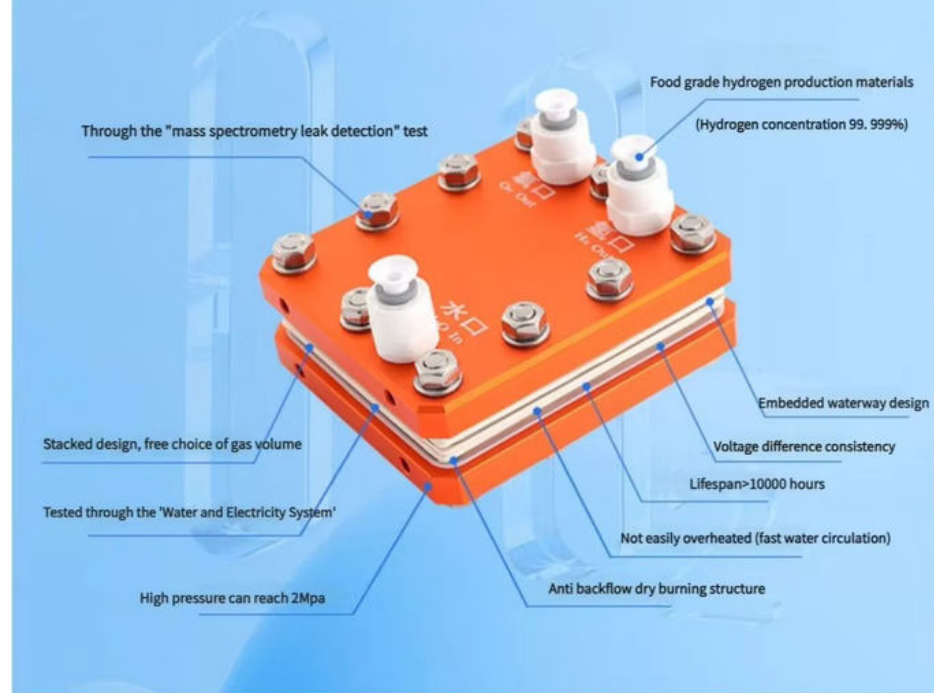

This h2 generator water bath spa machine has 2 ports (inlet and outlet). When we put both inlet and outlet pipe on the bath tub, the hydrogen rich water ppb can reach 5300ppb. And this machine with a big flow water output rate, only need about 20mins, it can produce the H2 water full of the bath tub.

SIX MAJOR PRODUCT FEATURES

Specialized PEM electrolytic cell

Hydrogen oxygen separation | Multiple electrolysis sheets | High hydrogen production efficiency

This hydrogen water bath generator utilizes a high - grade proton membrane electrolytic cell to produce  $H_2$  - enriched water. In doing so, it effectively prevents the generation of harmful gases like chlorine and ozone. Moreover, the electrolytic cell boasts exceptional durability and robust performance, which significantly prolongs the machine's operational lifespan.

Who Is Brown's Gas Therapy For?

Approximately 10% of the human body's weight and 63% of its volume consist of hydrogen. Hydrogen is essential for our well-being, and that's precisely the reason this particular therapy holds numerous potential advantages. It's important to highlight that we do obtain hydrogen through our diet. This is because organic compounds, which we consume, are rich in hydrogen. When we digest and take in the nutrients from the food we eat, we're essentially also ingesting hydrogen.

Hydrogen plays a crucial role in many vital bodily functions. For instance, it's involved in oxidation processes that help maintain appropriate energy levels. By administering extra hydrogen to the body through Brown's Gas therapy, we can tap into a host of benefits. Numerous studies have indicated that this treatment can be beneficial for a wide range of chronic diseases and health issues, suggesting that it could potentially be helpful for nearly everyone.
